After long years dedicated to deepening and studying the technology underlying the magnetism of Italian telephone cards, Gianfranco and I finally have the pleasure of sharing the results of our studies with all of you.

Our column, entitled "Schedeleaks", will deal in depth with the various topics relating to magnetism, starting with a series of historical notes relating to magnetic band technologies, passing through the magnetization control tools and the various types of conditions in which the magnetism of each board can be found. The last part of the column, certainly the most interesting, will cover a series of insights into the internal codes of Italian telephone cards, their reading, decoding and verifying their goodness.

The articles, sometimes of a few lines, other times longer, will be published weekly using the hospitality of Carlo and his website www.schedetelefoniche.org and will be shared with all of you.

Finally, it is important to underline that all that you will find written in the texts are our personal deductions, published for the sole purpose of collecting and information, obtained from amateur studies and from the retrieval of information very often only verbal. Therefore, the published information is neither official nor confirmed by telephone companies.

Gianfranco and Stefano.
